

BROTHERHOOD BANQUET

Men of Methodist Church Listen to Address By Rev. F. B. Richards.

The annual banquet of the Methodist Brotherhood was held in the dining hall of the new church Friday night with an attendance of 150. The arrangements by President Dahl and the officers of the Brotherhood were complete and combined with the very convenient banquet hall of the church made the affair enjoyable and flawless throughout. A four course dinner was served by the ladies of the Unity club. The program arranged included selections by an eight piece orchestra and Mrs. N. C. McLean favored the company with two vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Edwina Blodgett. Her first number was "At Nightfall" and in response to an encore she gave "Mighty Lak a Rose." Mr. Dahl then announced a novelty in songs of long ago with the old-time quartet doing the honors. This quartet, made up of Atwood brothers, F. O. French and John B. Toussant, revived many favorites of a quarter of a century ago and gave them with such zest and feeling that they were obliged to respond to several encores. Many present heard the songs for the first time as they were so long out of print, but many others—and there were a few of these who wouldn't acknowledge it—remembered very well when those strains were whistled on the streets and hummed in the homes. Mrs. McLean sang "Mother Macree" with pleasing effect.

Rev. F. B. Richards was present and Mr. Dahl congratulated the company on their good fortune in being privileged to hear his illustrated talk on Washington. It was in view of the interest now being taken in affairs at the national capital, particularly appropriate to the times and the speaker did justice to his subject. Those who have never visited Washington were shown many new and interesting features while those who have were gratified in being able to make a second visit at a much less expense. One could almost imagine himself on board one of the Royal Blue line sight-seeing autos as the places of interest were pointed out by Mr. Richards. He also took his hearers on a short journey to Annapolis and showed many interesting views of the place where admirals are made.

Although an ardent peace advocate Mr. Richards favors preparedness to the extent of upholding the dignity of the country and thought that Annapolis was doing its share toward producing men of a calibre to command the respect of other nations. At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Richards was tendered a rousing vote of thanks.

AMUSEMENTS

"September Morn" At The Colonial, Wednesday, April 5th.

In accordance with the previous announcement made by the management of the Colonial "September Morn," the cyclonic musical festival which delighted Chicago and other cities this past year, will be the attraction Wednesday night, April 5th.

"September Morn" is a girl, song, farce and dance show constructed purely to entertain. The story is about the famous Chabab's painting called "September Morn."

The scenic production is beyond all expectations and the costumes are a riot of color. The company numbers nearly 50 people and the large beauty chorus appears to advantage in many dashing song numbers and ensembles. The large cast includes Carl George, Margaret Felch, Florence Hill, Ruth Wilkins, J. J. Patton, Curt Vance, James Baber, Walter M. Welfitt and M. Leonard.

The seat sale for this engagement will open at nine o'clock Monday morning at the box office. adv.

Gave Violin Recital.

Miss Elizabeth Peck gave a very pleasing violin recital Saturday afternoon at the Woman's Club house. The program was an unusually interesting one. Before each number Miss Peck gave a brief account of the composer and his work in relation to the piece chosen. Those who took part were Raymond Howe, James Puffer, Priscilla Brooks, Dorothy Burns, Katherine Boynton, Marion Stevens, Allen Hunter, Clayton Slaby, Mary Dinmore, Harold Wells, Vera Genge, Marjorie French, Arthur Stanley, Fred Lougee, and Marjorie Cramton. Misses Eunice McGillivray and Viola May played the piano accompaniments.

Special mention should be made of the difficult numbers played by Miss Peck's most advanced pupils. Allan Hunter, Marjorie French and Marjorie Cramton, who have obtained unusual results by hard and thoughtful work.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. George Cross entertained the North church Sunday school Bible class of which she is teacher at her hospitable home on Saturday afternoon from three to five. Twenty six ladies were present, including two guests. A very social time was enjoyed, most of the ladies knitting for the soldiers. Several musical numbers were given by Miss Follensby and Miss Maude Brown to the pleasure of all. A delicious supper was served in the dining room and at smaller tables in the library. This class is one of the largest and most active in the school. Its motto is "Service," and in addition to its regular Sunday school contributions it has a voluntary flower fund. Since September, 26 members of the class and congregation have been remembered. Last year about $20 was expended for flowers for "shut-ins" and others. Mrs. George Wright is in charge of this department of work.

The Outlook club held their meeting with Mrs. Chamberlin Thursday. A very interesting paper was read by Mrs. Drew on "Family Relations," and by Mrs. Donley on "Home Economy." The next meeting will be Mrs. Donley, 70 Pearl street, April 12; topic, "Education."

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Bishop entertained many old and new friends on Saturday at a sugar party given in observance of their 46th wedding anniversary. It was a very happy occasion and all were glad of the opportunity to extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bishop.

To show their appreciation of the kindness shown by C. H. Brown in keeping a sidewalk plowed all winter for the residents of the north part of Arlington, the people living in that section gave him and Mrs. Brown a surprise party on Tuesday evening. The company grieved with them refreshments of coffee, sandwiches and cake and as a permanent evidence of their appreciation presented Mr. and Mrs. Brown with a beautiful electric table lamp.

Miss Ethel Taylor entertained the Comus club at their regular meeting on Monday evening. A peanut hunt formed a part of the program and during it Miss Winifred Drew was surprised to find two pieces of flat silver given her by her fellow club members.

Last Friday evening a delightful musicale, arranged by the W. R. C. was given at G. A. R. hall before an enthusiastic audience that packed the hall. The program consisted of piano solo, Elgie Taft; two vocal solos, "Just a-Wearyin' for You" and "Leaves in the Wind," Ruth Flint; solo, "My Evening Shrine," Mrs. F. H. Burt; solo, F. H. Burt, and duet, "No More of Love or of Roses," Mr. and Mrs. Burt; violin solo, "Un Souvenir," Marjorie French; cello solo, Lola French; two readings by Mrs. Oscar Cummings; trio, Misses French, violin and cello, and Mrs. Robert E. French, piano. Not one of the numbers varied from the general excellence of the program, which was most enjoyable and well rendered. Cake and coffee were served after the program, followed by dancing and cards. Music was furnished by Sargent's orchestra of four pieces. Almost $40 was received and will go into the piano fund.

Mrs. Frank Hooker entertained at a family party Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Ralph Hooker's birthday.
